

The Jaguar Preserve Cockscomb Basin Wildlife Sanctuary Hiking Tour

The Jaguar Preserve has one of the most extensive jungle hiking trails in the country. Plants are identified along the trails and animals are often seen. You could spend a year here and still not see all there is to see inside this awe-inspiring global treasure. It was founded in 1990 as the first wilderness sanctuary for the jaguar. Nowadays, roughly 60 of Belize's 700 jaguars are believed to live in the sanctuary.

The Park offers spectacular waterfalls, mountain views, nature trails, and rich diversity of a wide species of birds. The tracks of wildcats, tapir, deer and other wildlife are often seen on the hiking trails

Enjoy a refreshing swim under the waterfalls.
